WHO SAID IT?
“Market access for smallholders is key to transforming African agriculture. We need to fix the broken food systems.”
Swain Tore Holsether, President and CEO, Yara International

“We need to come up with ways of involving the youth. We live in a continent where the average age is 19 but the average age of the farmer is 60. We need tools and innovations that will attract the youth if a change is to be achieved.”
Strive Masiyiwa, Chairman, Econet Group
